Learn practical strategies, the 3 P's, to plan, prepare and authentically present, handle nerves, and engage your audience. Whether you're presenting in the classroom, sharing research, or leading a meeting, confident communication is essential to your professional presence. This interactive session helps faculty strengthen their speaking confidence by combining self-awareness and practical techniques. Participants will learn:

1. The 3 Ps. Proper preparation, Planning and Presentation to increase presentation skills
2. How personality helps define presentation style.
3. The importance of preparedness
